State Comptroller Says It Is Impossible To Make Annual City Audit Here

Mayor Heiselman Receives Word To That Effect and Recommends To Common Council That Mills & Co. Be Retained.

DAMAGE CLAIMS

Damage Claims Against City Rejected and Other Matters are Acted Upon by Council.

Mayor C. J. Heiselman sent in a communication to the common council Tuesday evening recommending that the certified public accountants, Mills & Company, be retained to audit the city books. Mayor Heiselman wrote that "Mayor Carey in a communication to the common council in December, 1935, relating to the installation of a uniform system of accounts, stated that audits thereafter would be made by the state comptroller. We have been informed of the state comptroller, however, that an annual audit by the state is impossible. The state comptroller wrote the city treasurer to that effect several months ago stating that there were about 1,600 municipalities in the state over which the state comptroller attempted to exercise more or less fiscal supervision and for that task had a force of not more than 22 examiners. The mayor attached a proposal from Mills & Company offering to audit the general accounts of the city for a sum not to exceed $1,500, a reduction of $700 over the usual amount of $2,500.

The aldermen unanimously approved the mayor's recommendation and voted to empower the mayor to engage Mills & Company to audit the city books. This concern has been existing for some time, as the city has not having been retained during the administration of the late Mayor Canfield as mayor.

Klarick Makes Request.

Mr. Klarick, who owns the property at 13-15 Foxhall avenue, sent in a communication to the council requesting the acquiring of Jansen avenue adjoining his property. This part of Jansen avenue had never been used as a public street, and he was desirous of obtaining title to that part of the avenue adjoining his property as he needed the land for erecting in addition to his property. The request was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee.

On Zoning Board.

Mayor Heiselman filed with the council the appointment of Judge Walter N. Gill and N. Jansen Fowler as members of the city zoning board. The resignation of Milton O. Ashmoody from the board on account of illness was read and filed.

Mushroom Plant Lease.

The Board of Public Works referred to the aldermen the request from Knaut Brothers for a ten year lease on the old quarry under Hasbrouck Park which they are using for a mushroom plant with the recommendation that Knaut Brothers be given a two year lease of the property. It was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee.

Polling Places Selected.

Mayor Heiselman filed with the council a list of election officials who will serve this year. The list was printed in full in The Freeman Tuesday.

The Election Committee Reported.

On the polling places designated in the various wards of the city which are the same as last year. The report was adopted.

Street Work Done.

Superintendent James Norton of the Board of Public Works submitted an exhaustive report of the work done by the street department during the past three months, which was read and filed.

Rock Through Top.

Walter Glennon of 81 Fair street wrote that while his car was parked at a gas station in Wilbur near the city stone quarry that a blast was set off and a rock hurled through the top of his car, damaging it to such an extent that he had to purchase a new top for his car. Mr. Glennon said that it was fortunate no one was sitting in the car at the time. This was on August 2, of this year. The claim was referred to a committee and the corporation council.

Musicians Thankful.

Alderman Zucca, chairman of the building and supply committee in charge of the Municipal Auditorium, reported that as a result of the first three bids under the auspices of the local musicians and the aldermen that the city had cleared $255 and the musicians a similar amount. He said that in behalf of the musicians he desired to thank the council for the cooperation shown in allowing work for idle musicians. He said that the building was now self-sustaining.

Transfers Certificate.

The Fiduciary Realty Corporation applied for a transfer to them of a sales certificate now owned by the city covering property assessed to Henry D. and Meta M. Langling at 19-24 Albany avenue, and enclosed a check for $545.25. The request was referred to a committee and was unanimously adopted.

Report Damage Claims.

The auditing committee reported a favor of rejecting the claim of

World Famous Artist At Benefit Concert

Georges Barrere, Flutist, Will Appear At The Benedictine Hospital Benefit Concert Friday at High School Auditorium.

With the appearance of Georges Barrere, flutist, at the Benedictine Hospital benefit concert at the High School auditorium Friday, September 7, Kingston concert goers will be privileged to hear one of the world's most famous musical artists of today. In May of this year, Mr. Barrere together with Carlos Salzedo harpist and Horace Britt, cellist gave an outstanding concert at Town Hall, New York city. It was said of the concert, by a New York critic, "Considered from all angles, the concert was as stimulating a one as three such distinguished musicians could jointly contrive." Of Georges Barrere's solo part in that concert, the same critic said, "When Mr. Barrere appeared for a solo performance in Bach's minor sonata he was greeted long and heartily by an audience which sat in tense amazement at the consummate skill that overcame the difficulties of the work."

On May 27th, friends of Mr. Barrere born in Bordeaux, France, tendered him a dinner at the Hotel Lafayette, New York city, in celebration of his receiving the Cross of a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor from the French government in recognition of his services in behalf of French music in America. The presentation was made by Comte Charles de Fery de Fontenay, consul general in New York. Mr. Barrere's career has included in addition to his incomparable solo playing, the founding and direction of the Barrere Ensemble of Wood Winds and the Barrere Little Symphony.

Dr. Damrosch, who was responsible for Mr. Barrere's coming to America in 1905 as first flutist of the New York Symphony Orchestra, said that while his object in securing Mr. Barrere was to improve the wood-wind choir of the orchestra which was accomplished, he (Dr. Damrosch) felt that he had built even better than he knew. Today the first flutist in the country was once a pupil of Mr. Barrere.

One must speak with bated breath of Georges Barrere, as one of the greatest flute soloists in the world today, who transports his hearers to realms celestial with the exquisite beauty of his music. It is indeed a rare privilege that music lovers of Kingston and vicinity may hear Mr. Barrere in a group of flute solos on Friday evening, at this concert by Pierre Henrotte for the benefit of the Benedictine Hospital whose ministrations to all in need of medical or surgical aid are so beneficial.

It will be noted that Horace Britt, cellist, a member of the Barrere-Salzedo-Britt Trio will also be one of the artists Friday evening.

The program on Friday evening will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock and all who attended are asked to be in their seats before the concert begins.

There will be a much appreciated innovation at this concert in the shape of an orderly control of traffic to and from the High School auditorium. The closely approximate hour of the conclusion of the concert being ascertained, N. D. J. Murphy and Charles Mullen have kindly consented to provide what used to be known as a "carriage cry service," announcing the names of those being called for by private cars or taxis, thus greatly expediting the auto service and making it more orderly under the traffic policemen who will take charge of that particular phase of the matter. Also on arrival autoists will be directed where to most conveniently park their cars.

Sir Basil Zaharoff Silent.

Pontoise, France, Sept. 5 (AP)—Sir Basil Zaharoff, mystery man of international finance, refused to comment today on testimony at Washington linking him with munitions transactions. Sir Basil is well guarded in the seclusion of the Chateau de Ballinacourt. A secretary came out to say: "Sir Basil has never given an interview or a statement in his life, and he's not going to begin doing either at the age of 85."

High School Pupils Now Number 1,768

There was a registration of 373 new students in the Kingston High School this morning, which with the enrollment of 1,395 students on Tuesday, the opening day, brought the total number of pupils at noon today to 1,768. It is expected that before the close of the week this number will exceed 1,800.

Of the new pupils registered today 153 were boys and 150 were girls. Of the 1,395 advanced pupils who registered on opening day there were more boys than girls enrolled. As the registration stood at noon today the boys continue to outnumber the girls.

Washington, Sept. 5 (AP)—Evidence that a submarine salesman sought to arrange to attend the 1935 disarmament conference as a delegate from Peru was presented today to the senate munitions committee.

Letters were read to the committee that Commander Louis Aubry, a Peruvian who was the South American representative of the Electric Boat Company of New London, Conn., had written to the submarine building concern telling them he planned to arrange for his appointment.

"I feel," Aubry wrote L. Y. Spear, vice-president of the boat building company, from Lima, "that I can do something good for Peru there, as well as for the cause for the submarines in South America."

"My flag will be, 'No quotas in submarines,' construction in South America, and classify it as a 'defensive weapon.'"

Aubry asked his employers' permission to get himself appointed the delegate. Senator Clark (D., Mo.), in charge of the questioning, introduced other letters to show officials of the company did not object to Aubry's plan, but refused to pay his expenses to the conference.

Aubry, it developed, did not attend the conference.

British Welcome Quiz.

London, Sept. 5 (AP)—The British government was represented today by a well-qualified spokesman as welcoming the revelations of the United States Senate investigation of a secret armaments pact between Vickers-Armstrong, Ltd., of Great Britain and The Electric Boat Company, of New London, Conn.

A full report of the hearing will be transmitted by the British embassy at Washington for the consideration of government chiefs here.

It was stated that there was no resentment by responsible leaders of the fact that the name of the British government was brought into public discussions and it was stated that Norman Davis and other American disarmament delegates, made it clear in their recent conversations in Europe that they felt much could be done for peace by exposing the tremendous political influence of private armaments firms.

London, Sept. 5 (AP)—The London Herald today quoted Sir Charles Craven, director of Vickers-Armstrong, Ltd., as saying that a working agreement between the firm and the Electric Boat Company of Groton, Conn., both submarine manufacturers, was made 35 years ago with the full knowledge of the British government.

SCHALL THREATENS TO PRESENT ALL THE FACTS

Minneapolis, Sept. 5 (AP)—United States Senator Thomas D. Schall, Republican, of Minnesota, says he will "present all the facts," unless President Roosevelt discloses the "identity of the European businessman with control of millions of ounces of silver who made that hurried trip to the White House."

In his latest statement to newspapers criticizing the administration, Senator Schall renewed his charge that the President seeks to establish a press censorship in not making public "details of this underhand transaction."

Courts Take A Hand

New Orleans, Sept. 5 (AP)—The courts threw their weight today into the tug-of-war between Senator Huey P. Long and Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley for political control of New Orleans. One temporary order was issued by Judge Wayne G. Borah in federal district court last night to prevent R. J. Gregory, registrar of voters, from removing names from the registration list for the Democratic primary election. A second order was issued by Judge W. Caruth Jones in East Baton Rouge state district court, temporarily restraining use of the state constabulary in the September 11 election.

Literary Opponents.

Washington, Sept. 5 (AP)—Herbert Hoover and Secretary Wallace, whose political views have clashed repeatedly, are going to be literary opponents before long. Both the former president and the secretary of agriculture are publishing books late this month. They will be issued by the same publishing firm and will be distributed by an organization which selects books periodically for its members.

Pinchot Will Not Run.

Harrisburg, Sept. 5 (AP)—Governor Pinchot announced today he will not be an independent candidate for the U. S. senate at the November election. U. S. Senator David A. Reed won the Republican nomination for re-election. Joseph F. Guffey is the Democratic choice.

Body Found In Lake.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 5 (AP)—A headless human body the legs of which had been cut off at the knees was found in Lake Erie today off a beach on Cleveland's East Side.

Adolf Hitler Declares Revolution Fulfilled Its Hopes, And Is Ended

Germany's Dictator in Bavarian Speech Says National Upheaval Was Merely an Evolution and Therefore Was Temporary.

NO CHAOS EXISTS

Predicts That There Will Be No Revolutions in Germany for at Least 1,000 Years.

Nurnberg, Germany, Sept. 5 (AP)—Adolph Hitler, dictator of Germany, declared today: "The National Socialist revolution is ended. It has fulfilled all its hopes."

This declaration he made at the annual convention of the Nazi party—the party which he founded and which placed in him the supreme power of the nation.

The regimented delegates cheered and waved flags in honor of their leader as he proclaimed that nowhere else in the world could be found a political demonstration so completely expressing the dominant will and power of a nation.

Evolutionary Step.

Der Fuehrer said that revolutions which took on a permanent character resulted in anarchy and chaos and merely served the purposes of greedy politicians, and that an evolution had to come to bring about better conditions.

"For this purpose," he said, "the Nazi leadership possesses all the power. Who dare deny that the National Socialist movement is the absolute power in the land?"

Now, with the revolution ended, he declared there was no better fitted body than the present Nazi party leadership for building up the state of the nation.

The Leadership.

"The leadership," he declared, "knows what it wants and gets what it wants."

Carries Vindication.

"It is entitled to that claim," he said, "because it carries a vindication which is but rarely recorded by history."

The German leader said the German way of life was fixed for the next 1,000 years, during which time there would be no further revolutions. He described the German regimes of the past 50 years as run by international freebooters and political politicians. He declared late generations would exalt the accomplishments of the Nazi movement as the "German miracle."

Then he turned to the recent plebiscite, and stated:

To Demolish Opposition.

"If foreigners imagine the 4,000,000 'no' voters constituted a dangerous opposition, they are privileged to smile. Our next attack will demolish the opposition."

Hitler reiterated that Germany, while insisting on her own rights, wanted peace and friendship with others, saying he was convinced that it was not the peoples who wanted war but only small cliques of mischiefs and profiteers.

Referring to the recent "purge," Hitler said he was sure the people would not blame him for stamping out for what had to be stamped out.

Speaks of Religions.

Next he took up the subject of religion, saying:

"We have endeavored to reconcile the religious confessions with the new state. As far as the Protestants are concerned, we are determined to weld them all into one great Evangelical Reich Church."

"If Martin Luther were among us, he would pray not for different state churches but for a Reich Church."

Concerning the Roman Catholic Church, he added:

"Despite lapses on both sides, we shall arrive at a sincere and honorable understanding."

Having lengthily reviewed the government's past measures in social welfare, Hitler concluded with a statement that the program was to consolidate the party organizations such as the Sturm Staffels, or picked guard, and the Sturm Troops, into one solid bloc purified of all elements that were not heart and soul with them to win over all those who still held aloof.

National Socialism, he declared fervently, would force ahead and never surrender.

Quarrel Led To Her Absence.

Oakland, Calif., Sept. 5 (AP)—Wanda Cardinet, 13, whose wanderings led to the belief that she had been kidnapped, is home today with the explanation that a quarrel with her older sister led to her absence. "I thought that if I went out on my own for a little while," she said, "I would be better appreciated at home when I returned." The pretty daughter of E. H. Cardinet, wealthy candy manufacturer, re-appeared last night after an absence of nearly thirty hours.

School Boy Shot To Death.

New York, Sept. 5 (AP)—Police men snapped their flashlights on two school boys working at a grocery window and Santos Fernandez, 15, turned sharply. Something flashed in his hand and Patrolman Abraham Zakutinsky, thinking it was a pistol, shot him dead. The zint had come from a pair of pliers. Fernandez's companion, 16-year-old Leopold Aronov, was held on a charge of attempted burglary.

Chief Of Police Wood Today Arrested Strike Organizer For Alleged Disorderly Conduct

Roosevelt Moves To Name a Board To Mediate The Textile Strike

New England Response Shows Marked Headway, Particularly In Fall River, Mass.—Paterson, N. J., Silk and Rayon Call Is Effective Today—Associated Press Gives Independent Survey.

(By the Associated Press)

President Roosevelt moved today to appoint a mediation board for the general strike in the textile industry at the same time that employers' representatives announced a meeting to plan a defense against alleged intimidation of workers remaining on their jobs.

The president acted at the request of the National Labor Relations Board and will shortly announce the personnel of a board of three members to enquire into the strike situation.

The president aside from this move, however, is contemplating no federal interference in the general strike.

Heads of the silk, woolen and cotton industrial organizations announced that they would meet today in an effort to effect a plan of defense against alleged intimidation forcing workers who desire to remain at their jobs to walkout.

Reports from both south and east indicated that the number of strikers was increasing. Additional shut-downs were reported in many sections.

In New England where about 200,000 were employed at the time the strike call was issued union leaders placed the number idle today at 100,000 while manufacturers claimed a conservative estimate would not exceed 70,000.

In the Paterson, N. J., area 20,000 silk and rayon workers were called out and union workers jammed strike headquarters for picketing instructions. A check of the effectiveness of the strike could not be immediately made but union leaders said they expected the strike would be "100 per cent effective" because of the high state of union organization in the area.

At Fall River, Mass., James Sinclair, president of the Fall River Cotton Manufacturers' Association, announced that the members of the association would shut down all their plants throughout the city bringing the entire textile industry in Fall River to a complete standstill.

Union textile leaders strengthened their lines today in an effort to make the general strike in the industry "85 per cent effective" by the end of the first week.

The strike apparently gained headway in New England with the most growth reported from Fall River, Mass., one of the industry's largest centers. Seven additional mills closed bringing the number to 10 out of 22.

At Macon, Ga., the three mills of the Bibb Manufacturing Company were closed until further notice after a series of fights at the mill gates.

A strike call for 20,000 silk and rayon workers in the Paterson, N. J., area became effective despite the fact that the industrial relations board of Paterson had failed to authorize the walkout.

The Paterson workers were not called out at the time of the general strike call because of an individual contract stipulating that the Paterson board must rule 40 per cent of the industry outside of Paterson on strike before a walkout there became legitimate.

The response to the Paterson strike order was not immediately determined but leaders anticipated the walkout to be generally effective because the workers are highly organized in the area.

Enormous Relief Aid Given to Individuals Reported by Richberg

Fourth Report to Roosevelt Cites Activities of Home Owners Loan and Deposit Insurance Corporations—Real Estate Panic "Ended."

Washington, Sept. 5 (AP)—Donald R. Richberg, secretary of President Roosevelt's executive council, presented an accounting of the government's enormous relief program today with a prefix saying that "under the present administration" the individual is getting aid.

It was Richberg's fourth report to the President on the progress of the New Deal and it drew a sharp contrast between the Rooseveltian approach and that of the previous administration. "Prior to March, 1933," he wrote, major efforts had been to provide corporate relief.

The accounting covered activities of government agencies for "relief of individual financial pressures," such as the Home Loan system, and those for "relief of corporate financial pressures," as typified by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

No aggregate figure was given, but the spread of activities was great.

In the individual category, Richberg devoted most space to the Home Owners Loan and Deposit Insurance Corporations.

He said the Home Loan organization reported "its operations ended panic in the real estate market and brought about some stability while the social consequence of preventing the eviction of several hundred thousand persons during a period of great tension and unrest can hardly be overestimated."

The RFC was credited with $7,265,000,000 of authorizations since its creation—$5,266,000,000 under Mr. Roosevelt—and $5,852,000,000 in cash disbursements.

Activities of other agencies were given as follows:

Federal Home Loan Bank system—With its 2,494 member institutions has made it possible for them to be lenient with delinquent borrowers.

Federal Savings and Loan associations—"Growth is fast increasing."

Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation—"Anticipated that examination and insurance of the federal associations will be under way by September 15. Depositors and shareholders of eligible institutions are estimated to number between seven and eight million."

Deposit Insurance Corporation—"About 50,000,000 accounts in 14,000 of the nation's bank were insured. As of August 10, the insurance liability of the corporation being estimated as in excess of $12,000,000,000."

Richberg included in the "individual" list, without detailed comment, the Farm Credit Administration, Commodity Credit Corporation, Federal Housing Administration and National Mortgage Associations.

Freda Schwenkmeyer Taken Into Custody For Vocal Outburst At Plant

Seven Alleged Imported Agitators Provoked Action Along Picket Line in Front of Fuller Factory This Morning.

ACID IS HURLED

Bottle of Muriatic Acid Hurlled Through Closed Window of Spina Home on Andrew Street.

The yelling of "scab" by some of the pickets on the picket line at the Fuller Shirt Factory this morning led to the arrest of Miss Freda Schwenkmeyer, who is assisting Miss Griselda Kuhlman, organizer of the presser strike at the factory, by Chief of Police J. Allan Wood, who charged the organizer with disorderly conduct in shouting to persons passing on the sidewalk "You yellow scab" and "You scab."

The organizer was placed in the police car and hurried to police headquarters, where she furnished $25 cash bail for her appearance later in the morning in police court. There was more disorder on the picket line this morning than at any time since the strike has been in progress. Seven alleged imported labor agitators from Albany were in the picket line this morning, and some of them it is charged occupied themselves by calling employees of the factory "scabs."

One of the alleged agitators, whose name was said to be Kazar, told the employees that a "scab was the worst thing that crawled and that there was not even a place in the warm spot (she called it hell) for a scab. The seven alleged agitators also sang several songs addressed to Mr. Rowland and Mr. Fuller, factory executives, which were said to be far from complimentary.

Chief of Police J. Allan Wood drove over to Pine Grove avenue early this morning to see how the strike was progressing and had been there but a minute or so when he arrested Miss Schwenkmeyer on a charge of disorderly conduct. According to the information sworn to by the chief he accused the organizer of calling pedestrians on the sidewalk "yellow scabs."

Has Hearing Adjourned.

Miss Schwenkmeyer was represented in police court later in the morning by Attorney Andrew J. Cook, who moved to have the charge dismissed. Motion was denied by Judge Culliton.

Chief Wood in reply to questions said he was ready to proceed to trial at once, but Mr. Cook said he had not had the opportunity to confer with the witnesses in the case, and asked for an adjournment.

The hearing was adjourned to September 12, and the bail bond of $25 was continued.

Acid Thrown Through Window.

A note of violence was injected into the strike situation shortly after 2 o'clock this morning when the Spina family at 65 Andrew street was awakened from slumber by the sound of crashing glass. Jumping out of bed they made a hurried investigation to find that a bottle of muriatic acid had been hurled through the closed living room window and lay on the floor with its contents splashed about the room.

The police department responded to a hurried telephone call and gathered up the fragments of the broken bottle and questioned members of the family.

Three of the Spina sisters are employed in the Fuller shirt factory. An investigation is being conducted by the police to ascertain who threw the bottle of acid.

Fortunately it was thrown at such an early hour in the morning that there was no one in the living room at the time, or results might have been much more serious.

Neighbors Complained.

While the seven alleged imported agitators were leading the striking pressers in the singing of songs such as "Fuller's shirt are not like they used to be since we went on strike," neighbors in the vicinity of the factory called on police headquarters and asked complaints regarding the conditions they claimed were prevailing in front of the factory.

One of those on the picket line had a harmonica which was used in accompanying the singers.

Conference Today.

It was planned to hold a round table conference this afternoon with Mrs. Weinstein, coordinator of the U. S. Department of Labor, between representatives of the Fuller plant and those in charge of the strike. An effort will be made to settle the strike at this conference.

Another Arrest.

This afternoon Josephine Kazar of Troy was arrested by Officer Brown. She was charged with disorderly conduct in calling names in a loud voice. She will be arraigned Thursday in police court, bail in the sum of $25 having been fixed.

Sinclair Claims Hoover Was Talking Of Rights Of Millionaires In Post

California's "Epic" Planner Hits Sharply at Norman Thomas, Has Strong Praise for President Roosevelt's Policies.

LA GUARDIA VISIT

Roosevelt is Paying Close Attention to Talk of New Party Formations Now Prevalent.

New York, Sept. 3 (AP)—The arrival of Norman H. La Guardia, came up the Hudson today with President Roosevelt. La Guardia, like Upton Sinclair, is a Democratic gubernatorial candidate in California, who was here yesterday for the Chicago Labor Day parade. He is referred to "new party formations."

Sinclair, one time fiery Socialist and now seeking the governorship of California with his "epic"—and party in California—plan, said after meeting yesterday from his conference with the president that he had had the most interesting talk of his life. The subject of the conference was not discussed.

New York state questions were up on the Roosevelt calendar today. In addition to the New York governor, the president had on his mind Mr. Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the New York power authority, Cardinal Mundelein, of Chicago, was a luncheon guest of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt. He is enroute to Europe and is an old acquaintance of Mr. Roosevelt. The president had an opportunity for comment on the two-hour visit yesterday with Sinclair at his regular press conference, but there was no certainty he would. Sinclair went in his way, radiating enthusiasm. He said the president had a "very" plan, which plan he said was the same as his.

In response to inquiries, Sinclair then sharply at Norman Thomas, Socialist party leader and Hoover, former Republican president. He said Mr. Hoover in his article in the Saturday Evening Post was talking about "rights for millionaires" and added "that is all Mr. Hoover has thought about all his life."

As for the criticism of the "epic" plan by Norman Thomas, the Californian simply replied: "It is very unfortunate that Norman Thomas is too busy making Socialist speeches to find out what the epic plan really is."

Mayor LaGuardia who comes to the summer White House today spoke on Labor Day in Chicago, of a new party alignments and further steps for social legislation. With talk of new party formations coming from New York and also from California, Mr. Roosevelt is observing closely. He himself has stressed in speeches this summer the non-partisanship of the national improvement campaign and has put his arm around members of congress from both parties who stood by the New Deal legislative program.

TWO PASSENGERS HURT IN STONE RIDGE ACCIDENT

Stone Ridge, Sept. 3.—When the Buick sedan driven by Solomon Pearl of Ellenville skidded at the foot of the hill by DeForest Bishop's house in Stone Ridge Tuesday morning, landing in a field, the two passengers were hurt. Pearl's daughter, Sadie, was cut and bruised. His nephew, Izzy Ganz, of 1935 Rutland avenue, Brooklyn, was severely cut up, none of the injuries, however, being critical. A truck, arriving just after the accident occurred, took the injured persons to Dr. Edward Shea in Stone Ridge, where they were treated. The car was able to proceed under its own power.

Funeral Thursday For Russ Columbo

Los Angeles, Sept. 3 (AP)—Strangers on the lake which cost the life of Russ Columbo, singer and actor, was disclosed today in the report of a police ballistics expert.

Columbo was wounded fatally Sunday by the accidental discharge of a car and ball shooting pistol, possibly 100 years old, as he examined the stream of an old friend, Lamar V. Brown, photographer. Brown, who was snapping the trigger of the weapon when it was discharged, was unaware that it was loaded. An examination of another pistol, a mate of the death weapon, by Howard Nott, police ballistics expert, showed that it contained a charge of black powder but there was no leaden ball tamped against the explosive.

Had Brown chosen the second weapon for his demonstration, Columbo would be alive today. Relatives completed arrangements for funeral services, which will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. from the blessed sacrament church. Burial will be delayed pending the outcome of the condition of the singer's mother, Mrs. Julio Columbo, 70, who is critically ill in a hospital from a heart ailment. She has not learned of her son's tragic death, physicians fearing the shock of the news might take her life, too.

ZENA

Zena, Sept. 3.—Last Tuesday, August 28, had a rather dismal outlook for the Harvest Home dinner and fair of the Church Circle of the Reformed Church but in the afternoon the rain stopped long enough to coax a good crowd out. There were many folks from near and far and the members of the church were well repaid for their efforts to make it a success. The net proceeds were $123.55 and the members wish through these columns to thank all who helped by their presence to make it possible.

Governor Signs 11 Mortgage Bills

Measures Are Designed to Make Loans Available to Distressed Certificate Holders and to Aid Insurance Department.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 3. (AP)—Governor Lehman today signed 11 bills for the relief of New York state's 250,000 holders of distressed mortgage certificates. The bills were passed in the senate today.

The bills, although not as far-reaching as the Governor wanted them to be, are designed to make loans available to distressed certificate holders and to aid the state department of insurance in the rehabilitation of guaranteed mortgage companies.

Governor Lehman approved the bills last night without comment. It had been a foregone conclusion that he would sign them.

The three key bills, sponsored by Senator Lazarus Joseph, Bronx Democrat, were accepted as a compromise after the Republican and Democratic leaders of the legislature had been deadlocked on the mortgage question throughout the session. Their provisions:

(1) Authorizes any corporation organized under the banking or insurance law to make loans to certificate holders at interest of not more than five per cent a year, until September 1, 1935.

(2) Authorizes insurance compaties and banks to invest in corporations that will loan money to certificate holders.

(3) Provides that capital stock shall amount to not less than $100,000 for investment companies set up either to loan money to certificate holders or to rehabilitate the property on which certificates were issued.

Besides these the Governor signed eight bills of less importance, two by Senator Joseph and others by Senator George R. Fearon, Republican minority leader, and assemblyman Jasper W. Corraire, Jefferson county Republican.

Two of the Corraire bills extend until September 1, 1935, existing emergency laws for protecting certificate holders. Another, designed to eliminate unnecessary court delay, permits the superintendent of insurance to compromise debts not exceeding $200 in rehabilitation cases.

Will Delve Into Reason For Increased Traffic Toll In U. S.

By EDWARD W. MARRISON
Copyright, 1934, by Commonwealth News

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 3.—The automobile industry may be called upon to defend itself against the charge that newly developed speeds in recent models are contributing to an increased traffic toll throughout the United States.

Information coming into Detroit indicates that every traffic conference that assembles this fall will try to delve into the reason for the mounting death list on streets and highways.

The answer to the growing number of fatalities is being sought not only by automobile clubs and traffic engineers, but by police chiefs and municipal officials as well.

Two schools of thought present arguments on the problem. Both sides recognize the predominant human element. But the one contends that automobile manufacturers, by gradually stepping up the potential speeds of their products during the last 10 years, have contributed to the rising accident toll. The other side maintains that the increasing number of accidents grows out of the vast army of obsolete cars on the highways—an army whose size has grown since economic ills befell the country in 1923. This second line of argument centers around the contention that not only are there too many obsolete cars on the roads, but repairs have been permitted to lapse on a huge number of them.

The manufacturers, in analyzing the charge that the modern car opened up, is a greater weapon of death than the car of a decade ago, explain that the car of today is built for long trips. It is no longer primarily a town car, as was the car of yesteryear. The speeds of 70, 80 and 90 miles an hour have been incorporated into the new models of today were designed for the nation and are a necessity.

"We have the first step of an increase in the speed of the car," says a manufacturer, "but recently the public demanded cars that would go faster than the old cars. High speed cars could be speeded up easily to almost unbelievable figures. The man who bought a car in a lower bracket decided to want the same thing. Consequently we manufacturers of popular priced cars had to move our speedometers up."

The Detroit producers contend that when accidents occur they are attributable in more than 90 per cent of the cases to the human element. Defects in the vehicles involved contribute only a small percentage to the accident toll. Of this latter classification faulty brakes are the source of many collisions.

"An automobile with a potential speed of 90 miles an hour, when properly handled, is no more dangerous on the highway than a car with a potential speed of only 40 miles," an official in one factory here declared. "The man who drives these cars will determine what happens to them and whether they are involved in accidents. If the accident toll is rising, then there is a problem of education, and that does not lie at the door of the manufacturers. Strict enforcement of speed and safety laws is the first step toward that would come from the manufacturers. It is in Detroit many such that a car is mechanically sound and in shape for the road. It is in the driver's hands that it is operated with due care and the best amount of skill."

A recent survey reveals that even with top speeds of 70, 80 and 90 miles an hour available on the new priced cars, the average motorist is content with an open road rate of slightly more than 40 miles. The exact figure was 42.2 miles, a confirmation from a six months' study of 45,000 vehicles.

The private operator of a car disclosed, in his own words, the fastest driver on the road. This distinction goes to the car driver who, under this particular study was timed at an average of 43.1 miles an hour. The slowest vehicles on the road were the trucks, which averaged only 34.2 miles.

On Friday, September 1, at 4 p. m., a clam chowder supper will be served by the Locomotive Home Bureau. The menu will be: Clam chowder, potato salad, oysters, pickled beets, perfection salad, apple pie and cheese.

Fashions By Barbara Bell

A Fall Dress with A Back Opening

Here is a new version of a style that is becoming increasingly popular among women who have youthful figures, which look dependably smart in the modes of the moment. Back interest is given a captivating interpretation in the central placement of the buttons down the back, which is one of the new divided collars which subscribe to Schiaparelli's ideas on the subject of two collars being better than one.

This wool, upon which you can always depend for an effect of extreme smartness, makes this dress, and fine velvet trims it. This combination is very much in the public eye just now, and when both fabrics are of the finest quality available, the effect is tremendously chic. Many of the new wools are so thin that you will hardly guess they are wool. Others are mixed with rayon, producing a new texture that is full of interest. Among the heavier wools are to be found fascinating weaves. Some are ribbed, some puckered, and others have a hairy surface. Flannels and cashmere are fabrics that attracted attention in Schiaparelli's collection, early in August, proving once again that the season is one that caters to the taste of every one of us.

The skirt of this frock provides ample fullness in the pleated section in front. This particular detail makes a gracious response to the general treatment of the waist. The length from the floor, in dresses of this type, is established at ten inches. Sports dresses are as short as twelve, the final decision depending upon whether short lengths are becoming to you.

Mothers! Here's How Ovaltine Helps Fussy Eaters Eat!

WHEN a child "won't eat" there are two important things you can do to help. First, give him food that is very easy to digest. Second, give him food that is rich in appetite-producing Vitamin B.

It is, for these amongst other virtues, that Ovaltine is gaining world recognition as an important food for child building. For Ovaltine is not only rich in Vitamin B—but is processed so that it digests very quickly—even at times when digestion is impaired.

These features are tremendously important. For specialists will tell you that a poor eater is usually a child with poor or slow digestion. The stomach doesn't empty soon enough to produce the feeling of hunger for the next meal. That's why he shuns his regular food, such as vegetables and milk.

But once appetite is stimulated in a scientific way—the old objection to every-day foods gradually disappears. Very frequently he even refuses vegetables and other foods to which he formerly objected . . . and weight is often added at the rate of a pound a week or more.

For the sake of your child, try Ovaltine. You can get Ovaltine at any drug or grocery store—and results may surprise you. Or, if you like, send the coupon for a trial supply.

NOTE: Thousands of people, men and women, are using Ovaltine to restore vitality when fatigued. It is also highly recommended by physicians as a strengthening food for nursing mothers, convalescents, and the aged. When taken as a hot drink at bedtime, it usually induces sound sleep quickly.

Inside Home, The Three Children To Beds and Force Banker and His Wife To Accompany Them To Bank.

ANOTHER ROBBERY

Bank Hold Up North Bergen Trust Company and Escape with an Estimated $15,000.

Two men robbed the Palmetto Bank of Lake City of approximately $15,000 today after kidnaping J. Carter, the bank president, and his wife from their home and trying to force three children to their beds. The three robbers invaded Carter's home about 5:15 a. m., 45 minutes after the opening hour of the bank, and held up the family with pistols. The three Carter children, the oldest a 15-year-old girl, were tied to their beds and Carter and his wife forced to accompany the robbers to the bank.

En route to there the leader of the men told Carter they were taking him to open the vault after the time-lock had made it possible. At the bank, however, they found the vault empty, and the robbers then forced the two bankers and Mrs. Carter into their car and left.

Three blocks from the bank Mrs. Carter was put from the automobile and the robbers drove off with Carter and Stanley.

Mrs. Carter ran home and released the children and then advised officers of the robbery.

At that time the bank robbers were out of Lake City and the first word of their again came when the bankers telephoned from Lamar, 30 miles from here, that they had been released unharmed.

Plan Celebration of Boulevard Opening

September 20 Fixed for Monster Parade Between Kingston and New Paltz Over New Highway With Exercises in Municipal Auditorium At Close.

Thursday, September 20, has been fixed as the date for the big celebration to mark the completion of the Boulevard and the new concrete road between Kingston and New Paltz. That date was fixed Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of representative citizens held in the mayor's office at the city hall.

It is planned to hold a monster parade between Kingston and New Paltz, commencing here and motoring over the same route to Kingston where appropriate exercises are to be held in the Kingston Municipal Auditorium. It is urged that every business house and industry in Kingston and the villages along the new road be represented by auto floats in the parade. Owing to the length of the line of march the parade will be held entirely of automobiles and floats.

Alderman Paul Zucca has been appointed chairman to arrange for the entertainment program which will form part of the celebration exercises.

Rosendale is planning to be represented in the parade with a number of floats and it is expected that New Paltz will also be represented by a goodly number.

Further details will be announced as soon as completed.

ITALIANS MAY ASSIST IN RESTORING MONARCHY. Rome, Sept. 5 (AP).—Expectation that a monarchy will be restored in troubled Austria grew today as lively gossip spread the report that Archduke Otto, Hapsburg pretender, has become engaged to marry Princess Maria of Italy.

News of the visit of King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Elena of Italy yesterday to former Empress Zita of Austria at Viareggio, where the engagement was arranged, spread like wildfire.

In several quarters the prediction was ventured that Italy soon will give open support to Archduke Otto's claim to the Austrian throne.

Princess Maria, 19, is the youngest daughter of the king and queen, and the only one unmarried. She attended the Viareggio meeting. Archduke Otto is shooting off the coast of Sweden.

Roberts of Ellenville and Dr. Raymond Potter of East Orange, the latter a son of Mr. Potter.

Mr. Potter is one of Ellenville's best known citizens and prominent business men, having served for many years as a village trustee and also as village president. Jealous Rage Blamed For Fatal Shooting

Port Chester, N. Y., Sept. 5 (AP).—A jealous rage was blamed by police today for the fatal shooting last night of Miss Florence Lemmon, 22, of 1002 Madison Avenue, a former high school teacher by a former sweetheart who turned the gun on himself.

Charles McGuire, 34, teacher in the Port Chester High School, in critical condition in the United Hospital here today, a bullet wound in his abdomen, was said by police to have aimed Miss Lemmon when he learned of her secret marriage.

Police said she had written him of her marriage in July to Dwight P. Danway, of Troy, N. Y., in that city, although she apparently had planned to keep it a secret and go on teaching under her maiden name.

Returning to Port Chester to resume teaching, Miss Lemmon had invited her former sweetheart, with whom she had kept company three years before her wedding, for a ride in her automobile.

The couple were about to enter a garage where she kept the machine, on Rockland Avenue, near McGuire's residence, when, police said, he whipped out a gun and shot her through the heart, then turned the weapon on himself.

Moves to Name Board To Mediate Strike

(Continued from page 10) The A. U. T. W. organization was arrested and charged by police with passing without a license. Police said that before a license of 100,000 and that after his arrest the crowd became unruly and striking calls were called to disperse them.

Approximately 270 out of 400 men were reported closed in the two Carolinas with the total number of workers out placed at 500 out of 1,000, an increase of 100 over yesterday's estimates.

In Alabama two thirds of the industry seemed to be operating under normal conditions. Order was maintained throughout the affected areas and threats of trouble at small centers were considered to have abated.

A survey of the industry at Pawtucket, R. I., indicated all plants operating with practically full staffs. Union leaders were said to be directing their efforts to bringing out loom fixers in an effort to force the closing of the entire plant.

Textile Strike Figures

At least 200,000 textile workers responded to the general strike call in the industry in the first real test of the walkout Tuesday, an independent survey by the Associated Press shows.

State	Total Workers	Estimated Idle
Maine	22,400	1,000
N. H.	15,000	5,000
Vermont	3,000	500
Mass.	77,000	32,000
R. I.	50,000	4,200
Conn.	32,000	5,000
N. Y.	9,100	1,800
Penn.	126,444	30,000
N. J.	45,000	800
Pa.	20,200	None
N. C.	92,000	58,000
S. C.	62,000	29,000
Ala.	38,500	15,000
Ga.	60,000	25,000
Totals	650,644	207,300

To add to the difficulty of arriving at an approximate figure for the effectiveness of the strike, there were the widely varying figures of the national spokesmen—Francis J. Gorman for the union and George A. Sloan for the mill owners. Gorman estimates 308,000 workers are out Sloan fixes the figure at 92,000.

Accepting a round figure of 600,000 as representing the total number of workers in the industry, the strike—by Gorman's estimate—is 50 per cent effective, and—by Sloan's figure—is less than 10 per cent effective. Sloan, however, considers only the 100,000 workers in the industry at the time of the strike. He estimates the 100,000 workers are the strike to be about 10 per cent of the total workers.

Giants Beat The Phillies Twice And Increase Lead to Seven Games

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Giants today against the Philadelphia Phillies in a double-header game, and the Phillies were defeated in both games, 5 to 3 and 5 to 4, to add a full game to their margin over the Philadelphia Phillies and St. Louis Cardinals, who are tied for second place. In their next game, the Phillies will meet the Cardinals in Philadelphia and the Cardinals in St. Louis, and if they can win three games out of four in each series that will virtually win the flag for them outright.

In the only other National League game yesterday, the Braves and the Dodgers played a full game, and the Braves won, 5 to 1, for their third straight triumph and their fifth in seven home games against Brooklyn. Moore drove in all three Boston runs with a pair of singles.

The weather benefited Detroit's Tigers for the second time when they doubleheadered at Chicago as rain delayed leaving only one game on the American League program. The Tigers' leading rivals, the Yankees, also were idle but the Yankees with the White Sox now must be played at Detroit, giving the Tigers the slight advantage of the home grounds.

The single contest that was left saw the Indians tighten their hold on third place by bowing over the Browns, 5 to 3.

Psychic Bid Is Second.

New York, Sept. 5 (AP)—Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's Psychic Bid, by winning the Saratoga Hopeful, failed to gain the juvenile money-winning leadership of the American turf, but moved into second place behind Norman W. Church's Toro Nancy, filly winner of the Arlington Futurity. Toro Nancy's total winnings are $44,325 compared with $31,500 for Psychic Bid. The rich Belmont Futurity to be raced September 15 will decide this year's juvenile leadership. Toro Nancy is not eligible for it.

"Southern California's Chances Are Uncertain" Says Howard Jones

By Paul Zimmerman, Associated Press Sports Writer

Los Angeles, Sept. 5 (AP)—This is the year for Southern California's football team to travel the airways in search of victories unless history refuses to repeat itself.

While Coach Howard Jones has dropped only a gentle hint in this direction there is plenty of evidence to indicate Troy's famous running attack will be made incidental in the season many consider will be the most disastrous in the head man's 10 years on the west coast.

Jones doesn't join in the weeping and wailing over the loss of most of his 1933 line as he touches up the tandem shift and stuns an aerial barrage.

"Our team looks uncertain because of the tremendous amount of rebuilding to do," he said, "but while the material is green the boys are promising and strong and I believe they will accomplish much."

Starting now that since he took up the Trojan armor, Southern California has in alternate years de-

Depended on forward passes for its scoring plays. Last season the quick line thrusts of "Cotton" Warburton, wily little All-American quarterback, turned the trick.

"PUT IT THERE, JACK"

SPORTS through Edgren's EYES

By Robert Edgren

Some Oddities in Sports.

Lots of queer things happen in baseball.

The New York Giants once set a world's record for winning consecutive games—McGraw's men won 26 in a row, from Labor Day on—and they didn't finish first; they didn't finish second; they didn't even come in third! That year, although now-adays it may be hard to believe, Brooklyn and the Phillies were fighting it out for the pennant—and the Giants with their 26 consecutive wins late in the season could do no better than fourth while Brooklyn was winning the pennant. That was 1916.

Individuals are set upon by hard luck, too. Otis Miller, an infielder for the Boston Red Sox, had Umpire Emmett Ormsby for his pet menace. Early one season Miller was sliding into second base, and was spiked by Ormsby. He was on the injured list for two weeks. After he returned to the ball park, on his second day of play, he was playing third against St. Louis. Ormsby was the umpire. A St. Louis runner came ripping into third, and Miller went down in a heap. When the dust cleared away, he found that Miller had been spiked again. Who did it? The runner? No, Ormsby.

Miller's comment was, "I know President Barnard tells his umpires to be right on top of the play, but he never told them to be right on top of the players."

Weird plays by the thousand must come up in sand lot baseball, but this is one of the most unusual ones we've heard of:

The Lockwood Athletic Club ball team, in California, was playing a team of barbers. What ferocious opponents they would have made for the House of David! The barbers came in a relief pitcher named John Ferdinand, in the seventh inning. He went right to work, fanned two men, and tossed a lightning-fast ball towards the plate as the third batter came to the box. A loud crack was heard all over the field. A hit? Not exactly. The pitcher's arm had broken just above the elbow. He must have been putting SOME steam on that ball.

Maybe his delivery would have been smoother if he had had the start in life Maxwell Horton had. Max was the son of an ardent baseball fan in Brooklyn, who had him playing ball from the time he was two; and at the advanced age of four and one-half he had learned to pitch a curve ball and bat with all the style of a big-leaguer. We'll have to wait a year or two more before the major league teams start bidding for him.

Golf is always good for some unusual but stories. Willie Ogg, the famous professional who designed "iron clubs with the weight built into the toe, was playing with a man on a 150-yard hole. His opponent said, "I'll bet you five dollars to one dollar you don't hit that bird in front of the pin." He had waited until Ogg was starting to swing before making this proposition, so you can guess whether he was kidding Willie or taking a little at the wrong time to test Ogg's concentration. Anyhow, Ogg said "Taken!"—and the ball dropped smack on the bird's back, and stopped near the cup.

In a Fort Mitchell, Kentucky, tournament, an opponent challenged: Al Baumgartner to prove his skill by hitting a small two-hundred yarders, Cuba, two falls to one.

THE Spotlight BY GRANTLAND RICE

ROSS AND McLARNIN

When two fighters step their way through 15 rounds and there is a wide range of argument and debate as to which man won—you can realize the trouble that awaits any forecast when they meet again.

For if the best Ross-McLarnin meeting tomorrow night goes 15 rounds, there will very likely be the same wide difference of opinion, debated in the same loud and strident tones.

In my opinion Barney Ross won the first fight through greater speed and keener ring smartness.

He was much faster than McLarnin, counting in feet and hands, and Ross made McLarnin fight the way he wanted him to fight—which is shrewd generalship.

Against this McLarnin's supporters offer the idea that James did nearly all the forcing and leading—that he made the fight—and that Ross loaded and fought only in flashes.

This is largely true. McLarnin did most of the forcing—but he couldn't make it count. Ross had too many flashes—and not enough fighting.

And there it stands, with two judges more than a dozen rounds apart in their official verdicts—one of the widest gaps any fight jury has ever known.

THE NEXT MEETING

In behalf of their second meeting tomorrow, McLarnin now has these factors working his way:

1. He will be heavier, nearer his normal weight. There has been no worry about the surplus flesh he had to remove.
2. McLarnin has been something of a tiger cat in all return matches. They may let him up the first time, but it has been entirely different at the next show.
3. McLarnin now has the one needed fight under his belt that he lacked the last time. There was too much ring rust clinging to his frame in that affair. He has also put on a better training act for this next party.
4. With a weight advantage of some eight pounds and the ability to punch and hurt with either hand, he has a large advantage in the way of offense, most of the big guns being on his side.

These four factors give McLarnin a much better chance than he had before. They should count heavily in his favor—if any of the old McLarnin spark is still burning.

THE BARNEY ROSS ANGLE

Barney Ross, wearing two crowns, still takes to battle two of the main factors in ring success—speed and smartness.

Ross is faster in every way—faster foot work—faster hands—a faster working mind.

He is also strong and durable—and he is still on the way up, while McLarnin is about at the end of the main road—not so far away at least from the final turn.

Ross showed what he could do before when he and McLarnin stood toe to toe and fought it out. On almost all of these occasions Barney's superior hitting speed forced Jimmy to break and fall back. This extra speed prevented McLarnin from getting set for any punishing clout to head or body.

It is difficult to hit a target solidly when said target is popping away with both hands, thereby breaking up any balance.

It is this factor of speed and canny head work that gives Ross his best chance to retain his welterweight toga.

HOW IT LOOKS

With this evidence in, it all goes back to the matter of McLarnin's vital spark.

He is still under thirty, but he has been around throwing leather for a good many years. He has also been taking his share of punching at one time or another—and there is still the question as to how much of his old keenness he may have left.

This flare of flaming ring spirit doesn't last forever. Slowly but surely the flame turns to ashes.

McLarnin, with his two-fisted punching power and his greater weight, should have enough to offset the speed of Ross if the old will to win is still there.

Ross is a first-class boxer but not so much of a hitter. He will be in danger every minute of the fifteen rounds where McLarnin doesn't have to bother a lot about getting his chin dented or his head knocked off.

Taking in all "tallies," it rates about as even a fight as we have run across for some time.

Ross is a smart, game kid who can move around like a wind-blown mist in a swirl of action. He is difficult to tag—but McLarnin certainly should have had more punishment than he dealt last time.

Ross will hardly be any better than he was back in May, and McLarnin should be a decided improvement on what he was.

Any good fighter with an eight-pound advantage in the welterweight class, who can punch with both hands, should win from the lighter man—who can't punch to any great extent.

For McLarnin is game enough and he has a good head—despite the fact that he was badly outgeneralled the last time.

He will have to be better than he was to offset Barney's speed—in an age where speed plays one of the leading roles, no matter what the game.

Kingston High Gridders Start Drills for DUSO League Season

This afternoon at the Athletic Field the Kingston High School football team, champions of the DUSO League, held their first practice, of the current season.

The team donned uniforms after taking the physical examinations and started practice at 2 o'clock.

Coach G. Warren Kias, who attended Albany's coaching school at Colgate University during the past summer, was in charge of the practice, with Boyd Miller and R. Fuller assisting.

Nine Letter Men

Coach Kias starts the coming season with nine letter men left from the team that brought fame and the Hamilton Fish football trophy, emblematic of football supremacy in the Hudson Valley, to Kingston High a year ago. With the exception of Tony Debrosky, the left wing and captain of the first Kingston team to win the DUSO pennant in football, the entire line remains the same as it did a year ago. The backfield suffered most by the June diploma suffering Jas. Cullum, conceded to be Kingston High's greatest quarterback. Ed Burgerin, ace ball totter of last year's team, and "Pop" Saeloff, Bill Van Derzee and Cliff Van Valkenburgh, all three of whom Coach Kias could use with the greatest of joy on this year's team if they had not passed their exams to admit them to the society of old grads.

Art Davis, scrappy, hard fighting, general utility back, who was one of the stars of the classic Newburgh game last Thanksgiving, will undoubtedly fill Jas. Cullum's shoes, while the halfback assignments will be taken care of by two ex-veterans, Captain-elect Mac Tiano, one of the fastest and most dangerous of the backs in the DUSO loop and Elmer Hopper, who late in the season of last year developed into one of the hardest plunging, most reliable backs on the team.

Line Vets On Hand

Of the veterans in the line, Coach Kias has at his disposal Bob Evers, Emil Nece and Frank Evers, tackles, Jip Zachco, Harold Ferguson and Mush Levy for guards, and Morgan Ryan to take care of the center position. With these veterans Kingston should have the greatest team in the circuit, one that should give K. H. S. its second-let on the Hamilton Fish trophy. To retain the trophy permanently a school must win it three seasons in a row, a feat

Kingston's first road game is with Monticello at Monticello Saturday, September 22. The first home game is with the Alumni at the Fair Grounds, Saturday, September 29. The Alumni are apparently planning not to take it on the chin and have already practiced under the direction of Mort Thibideau, Yellow Jacket coach. James Cullum, who is in charge of the Alumni forces, announced yesterday that he has several practice sessions planned.

James will have on his roster Tony Debrosky and Bill Thomas, ends, "Toots" Duffy and Holly Burhans, tackles, Dan Van Wagenen and Jim Steigerwald, guards, and George Hizen and "Cholly" Raible, to divide the center assignment. For the backfield Cullum has selected besides himself for the quarterback position, Bill Scully and Gil Kelder for the halves and Ed Burgerin for the fullback positions with Joe Quest and Bill Van Derzee in selected one of the strongest Alumni outfits possible as almost all of the men were stars on their teams when they played for the Maroon and White. If cranky joints and a few extra pounds of avoidoids added since graduation does not get the best of the grads, they should give the varsity one of its toughest jousts on the schedule.

Yellow Jackets to Practice on Friday

At the meeting of the Kingston Yellow Jackets at Nick Kaslich's billiard parlor Tuesday evening, Coach Mort Thibideau gave a blackboard demonstration of some of the plays he expects to use during the gridiron season and announced the next practice for Friday night at the Kingston Fair Grounds at 8:30 o'clock. Following the drill there will be a meeting at Nick's. Among those at last night's session were two new players, Art Myers and Bill Soper.

Wallkill Prison Wins And Loses in Twin Bill With Zulu Cannibals

Wallkill, Sept. 3.—Rock's home run in the last frame of the second game enabled the Wallkill Prison nine today to nose out the fast Zulu Cannibal Giants 14-13 after dropping the first of a double-header 5-3.

Rock, pitcher and fielder for the Wallkill nine, came through with his four base clout at the crucial moment. Two of his team mates, Mallock and Sanchez, earlier in the game had smashed in like hits.

The Wallkill nine garnered 14 hits, three of them home runs and two of them triples and a double. The visitors, with ten hits to their credit, stretched one of them into a triple and the other for an extra sack. Batteries, second game: Zulu Cannibal Giants, O'Keefe, catcher, Ruffi, catcher, and Pebra and Sanchez on the mound; Wallkill, Summerville behind the plate, and O'Neill and Rock tossing.

In the first game, which the Zulus won 5-3, the visitors garnered nine singles to the home team's six. Three home runs by two of the Zulus, Andro and Sandro, added materially to their strength with the willow. Batteries in the first game were: Zulus, Ruffi, catcher; Tanno and Sandro on the mound; Wallkill, Summerville, catcher, and Haas, pitcher.

Sensational catches marked the eleven innings of the greatest diamond battle and pitching duel ever staged here when the Wallkill nine, Sunday, defeated the snappy Fifth-cliff A. C. of Cornwall, 3-2. The victory was due to a sensational last inning rally.

From the crack of the first ball into the catcher's mitt until the winning run crossed the plate the game was marked by terrific pitching, sensational fielding and unusual double plays. Ronk, Wallkill pitcher, fanned 14 Fifth-cliff men, while Murray, on the diamond for Fifth-cliff, retired six.

One of the largest crowds ever to throng the Wallkill Prison grounds showed considerable interest in the various exhibits which constituted the second annual Labor Day "fair." The exhibits including agricultural displays, vocational and avocational specimens showing the skill of the inhabitants have demonstrated during the past year, both in the fields and in the various shops of the institution.

Labor Day morning, despite over-cast skies, opened with a series of field sports and stunts participated in by the majority of the inmates culminating in a greased pig game. The Wallkill Prison nine will meet Galloway's Garage of Newburgh, at the "Little Yankee Stadium" here Sunday afternoon, September 9, at 2:30 o'clock, in what promises to be a fast game replete with thrills.

Rod Menzel Is Far Below European Form

By BOB CAVAGNARO (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 5 (AP)—Roderick Menzel's performances in this country have been so far below what he has done in Europe that the giant Czechoslovakian is no longer regarded as a serious threat in the current men's national singles tennis championship.

Menzel lost prestige when he defaulted to Dr. Eugene McCauliff as the score was 4-0 against him in the deciding set in an early round of the Eastern grass court championship, and his first bid for the United States title loomed less formidable after his trying experience against Roland Longin of Montreal Monday. Weather permitting, they resume their unfinished second round warfare this afternoon, with Menzel on the long end of set scores, 2-6, 11-9, 6-3.

Menzel, himself said: "I am not what you call it—putting up a squawk," but I don't find the grass courts in this country as good as those at Wimbledon. I came here hoping to do my best; yes, win the championship, but now I see I cannot do either."

The United States Lawn Tennis Association today made its third attempt to clean up the second round. Seven matches were played to a finish Monday before play was halted on account of rain. All play was postponed yesterday owing to a mid day downpour.

Silver Palace Call For Thursday, 9 P. M.

Homer Emerick, proprietor of the bowling alleys on Albany avenue, has set Thursday as the day for the first meeting of the fall to get the Silver Palace League started. Last season the league was the largest in the city. Expectations are that it will flourish again this year. Starting time of the meeting is 9 o'clock.

Sanders Leads Bi-State Batters.

Durham, N. C., Sept. 5 (AP)—Out of action during the past week, Manager Jimmy Sanders of Martinsville in the Bi-State League picked up two points in his efforts to clinch the national batting championship of the minor leagues. Demaree of Los Angeles was supplanted in the Coast League by Oscar Eckhardt of the Missions, but Eckhardt's average of .324 was two points under the second place hitter of the previous week, giving the idle Sanders that net gain with his average of .411. The Bi-State Closed Monday. McBride of Williamsport, New York-Pennsylvania, was seventh at .376.

New Orleans—Henry Moreno, 121. Laredo, Tex., outpointed "Midget" Wolgast, 120 lb., Philadelphia (110).

Washington—Marty Gallagher, 205 lb., Washington, stopped Tony Galento, 210 lb., Newark (113). B-J. Wilson, 145 lb., Miami, stopped Roy Manley, 142 lb., Hot Springs, Ark. (5).

Return From Enjoyable Trip.

Miss Carrie Every, Mrs. Anna Every, Vernon Huston and Mr. and Mrs. William Every have returned from a most enjoyable motor trip over the weekend during which time they visited a number of places of interest. While away they visited Saratoga Springs, Lake George, Lake Champlain, Fort Ticonderoga and other places of note. At Fort Ticonderoga they were interested in the remains of the fort with its many relics of war which dates back to the time the Indians were in that territory. They saw the rock on which it is claimed the Indians used to scalp the white people, part of the rock being discolored where the blood from the victims ran over it. The visit to the battlefields and the fort was of particular interest to Mr. Huston because of his having served in the World War and gave him the opportunity to compare the war equipment of years ago with that used in the past war.

Paralyzed Widow Tells Of Attack of Red Ants

Oaklahoma City, Sept. 3.—A real life horror story was told today as Mrs. A. M. Smith, a paralyzed widow, described an attack of red ants which entered her home from an attic and swarmed upon her bed.

The helpless woman suffered under the ants for two and a half hours before her screams attracted a neighbor, Pat McGraw, and a neighbor, L. M. Gifford. When they removed her, she was unconscious.

"When we got there the stream of ants still was entering the yard," McGraw said.

"It was yards long and about two inches wide."

"Mrs. Smith was terribly swollen and apparently was unconscious, although she moaned occasionally."

"We brushed the ants off and soon she was able to tell us what happened."

"She saw the ants start onto the bed, but was unable to push away the chair which they used as a ladder."

"Mrs. Smith's condition was not critical today and she refused to allow a physician to be summoned."

STONE RIDGE GRANGE

SOLOIST WINS FAIR CONTEST

Stone Ridge, Sept. 3.—Those who listened to station WFBL, Syracuse, at 6:45 Tuesday night heard the lovely voice of Mrs. Hubert Smith of High Falls, a member of the Stone Ridge Grange, and winning soloist of the State-wide Grange singing contest held at the State Fair at Syracuse Tuesday afternoon.

The radio audition was the reward for winning the contest. Mrs. Ganss, Beach of High Falls accompanied Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Smith was Ulster county's only representative, although a man's solo, a duet, and a quartet might also have been entered by any Grange according to the rules. Winning first at the Stone Ridge Grange contest, then at the county contest held at Stone Ridge, and again at the inter-county contest at Poughkeepsie, she was sent by the Grange to the State Fair with expenses paid.

Mrs. Smith sang the same song, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," and wore the same costume as at the Poughkeepsie contest. The dress was a brown and tan plaid taffeta, loaned by Mrs. Charles C. Hardenbergh of Stone Ridge. Both dress and hat were worn about 1850 by the mother of Mrs. Hardenbergh, who is a charter member of the Stone Ridge Grange.

It is an interesting coincidence that the lady was a Nottingham of Syracuse.

The radio announcer described Mrs. Smith's costume, which was appropriate to the period of the song, and commented on how beautifully it became her. Those of her friends who heard the broadcast said that her voice came in perfectly.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge, Sept. 3.—Miss Betty Shea, who has been visiting her brother, Dr. Edward Shea, returned to her home in Syracuse today prior to a trip to Toronto. Dr. Shea took her up in his car.

Mrs. Emma Clark of Middletown is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Percy Brink.

The Rev. and Mrs. Chauncey N. Stevens of Westminster, N. Y., stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crawford Monday night and during their visit called on many old friends in the village. They were returning from Schoharie, their birthplace. Mr. Stevens was pastor of the Reformed Church at two different times. His last pastorate here ended 10 years ago, when he was succeeded by the Rev. Cornelius Van Tol.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brown of Kingston were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Service and family at a picnic supper Tuesday night.

At the Sunday School Board meeting held at the Sunday School room of the M. E. Church, the Rev. Strivings stated that a nation wide campaign for spiritual recovery is being planned. Olive Reunion Was Held on Labor Day

West Shokan, Sept. 3.—Olive residents with their families and friends gathered early for a reunion on Labor Day at Morrison's, formerly Lambert's Pine Grove. Those coming from a distance for the most part brought well filled baskets and made it an all day gathering. Others came just for the afternoon.

The Protestant Band obligingly presented a repertoire of pieces, as on previous occasions. They arrived early and entertained with their engaging melodies throughout the day.

At 2 P. M. Olive's own ex-assemblyman, Millard H. Davis, called the crowd together for the customary annual business meeting. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Ernest R. Palen, who officiated in the same capacity two years ago.

There were two absentees from this year's festival, those two stalwart and beloved sons of Olive who had led in prominent rolls in past gatherings, Joseph S. Hill, the secretary and treasurer, who died in June, 1933, and Delaney N. Mathews, president of the Olive Association, whose health would not permit his presence. Their absence was keenly felt by both the assembly and the speakers.

Jacob V. Merrihew stepped to the platform and stated that Mr. Mathews had requested him to say that he was very sorry that he was unable to appear before his beloved people. Mr. Mathews had also requested that a younger man be elected president in his stead. However, the assembly would have none of it, and Mr. Mathews was unanimously and loyally acclaimed president for the coming year.

Mr. Merrihew was elected vice-president but refused. Whereupon Millard Davis was duly elected.

Benjamin Churchill of Highland, who has acted in the capacity of treasurer since the death of Mr. Hill, was elected to that office. Mr. Churchill was also absent due to illness.

Next came the choosing of a secretary, which office was also declined by Mr. Merrihew. Elwyn C. Davis was proposed and elected.

Financial reports were read and the freewill offering received. Messrs. Merrihew, Martin, Every and Hesley were delegated to pass the hats. A sum of $49.66 was collected. Of this amount there were subtracted various small sums for expenditures.

Labor Day Picnic

A much favored place on the grounds was the refreshment stand, conducted under the auspices of the West Shokan Baptist Ladies' Aid Society. Mrs. Nettie Jones and her husband had charge of the stand.

Mr. Ingersoll was present in the capacity of the principal afternoon speaker. He produced a list of 37 names of Olive residents, prepared by Mr. Mathews, who had died since the meeting two years ago. Mr. Ingersoll spoke at some length and touched upon many phrases which held the rapt attention of all within hearing of his name.

At the conclusion of the picnic, a large crowd gathered on the grounds for a social hour and a dance, as the 2000 people present came to the Olive reunion at 1934 passed 1930 the realm of history.

Among those who were present at the reunion were:

Enraged Creditor Ends Lives of Five Persons

Pinson, Ill., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Sage over an old unpaid farm debt, police said today, sent Fred Bink, 45, on a wild shotgun rampage that brought death to five persons.

After slaying the five, including his debtor, John Hamilton, Bink "shot it out" with Officer Frank Kustes when the latter cornered him yesterday afternoon.

Before his capture, Bink was wounded and turned his automatic shotgun on himself, inflicting additional wounds. Doctors at the hospital to which he was taken said he would recover.

The victims of the blasts from the enraged man's weapon, in addition to Hamilton, were Harry Minje of Belvidere, Ill., a railroad watchman; Mrs. Jennie Walter of Sterling, Ill., housekeeper for Hamilton; Web Collier, 70, of Sterling, and Mrs. Irene Corrick, of Des Moines, Iowa. Bink's wife told the police that when her husband left his home yesterday noon he said he was "going to do something" about the money she said that Hamilton owed Bink.
